Hi

I am Dom, an Architect for 5 years and now aspiring to shift my career to Software Development. Architecture was fun and all but I would not forgive myself if I were not to fulfill my immense curiosity for the ins and outs of the IT industry since I was little.

I would very much like to be a part of a company that would give me a chance to step into this industry and allow me to show that I can and will contribute as much as I can. I would love improve my skill by learning from the company and my colleagues.
